

GT Triple Double HOOK: Dai Riki 730-14
THREAD: UTC 70 black HACKLE: Grizzly fore and aft, brown center SEGMENTS: black hare, purple dubbing

Substitutions: Purple is the original color, but this fly can work with other “hotspot” colors like orange or chartreuse.

Fishing Tips: It’s part ant, part midge cluster, and part attractor, originally a local favorite on the Green River in Utah. Leave it bushy for choppy water, or trim the bottom hackle to make it a low rider that displays the abdomen/segments in the surface film for picky fish in smooth water.

Tying Tips

1. Start thread, and staying on the straight part of the hook, tie in the aft grizzly hackle. 3 turns is enough.
 2. Dub a tight ball of black dubbing, but don’t crowd the middle of the shank where the brown hackle goes.
 3. Tie in brown hackle mid shank. Don’t crowd the rear hackle. 3 turns is enough.
 4. Dub a tight ball of purple dubbing, but don’t crowd the eye where your fore-grizzly goes, and don’t crowd the brown hackle. TIP: Purposely make the purple segment a bit bigger than the black.
 5. Tie in grizzly fore-hackle. 3 turns is enough.
 6. Whip finish.
 7. OPTIONAL: Trim hackle on bottom half.
